Finch & Finch, Inc. Is Prepared to Safely Care For Families During the COVID-19 Pandemic

Altavista, Virginia – Finch & Finch, Inc. Funeral & Cremation Service remains committed and prepared to safely care for the families it serves during the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Whenever possible, Finch & Finch, Inc. Funeral & Cremation Service will continue to enable families to participate in the rituals that are most important to them.

And according to the CDC, at this time, there is no known risk associated with being in the same room at a funeral or visitation service with the body of someone who died of confirmed or suspected COVID-19; however, federal, state and local public health guidance may impact the size of gathering a family is able to plan. Depending on a family's preferences, their loved one can be safely embalmed. Families may choose either burial or cremation as usual.

"At Finch & Finch, Inc. Funeral & Cremation Service, we recognize our responsibility to protect the health of those we are privileged to serve," said Robert L. Finch, III, Vice President. "We will continue to guide families, as we always have, in ways they can meaningfully commemorate the life of their loved one, while adhering to the guidance issued by federal, state and local public health officials."

Finch continued: "Our staff remains vigilant about cleaning our facilities and ensuring we're all following recommended healthy habits, such as staying home when sick and washing our hands. The CDC and our state and local public health officials have offered a lot of helpful guidance for businesses on this topic, which we continue to follow."

"Finch & Finch, Inc. Funeral & Cremation Service is now offering live webcasting of all services in our chapel and additional delayed services at no charge to our client families. We are also implementing an office schedule to reduce exposure; our office will be open only while we are currently serving families at their time of need or by appointment. We will continue to always have a Licensed Funeral Director available 24 hours a day."

As member of the National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA), Finch & Finch, Inc. Funeral & Cremation Service regularly receives information via NFDA from the CDC, Department of Health and Human Services and other agencies about the evolution of COVID-19 in the United States. NFDA continues to lead the conversation with federal officials about the role of funeral service as it relates to the COVID-19 pandemic.
