“ I went to school with Barry. Always so quiet and kind. He listened to others and then would have a bashful grin on his face but never made a comment. He was a very nice person. Thoughts and prayers continue to be with you in the days ahead.

“ So very sorry for your loss of a wonderful husband, father and grandfather. Barry loved all his girls, each and every one . All of us cousins were very close as children. It was almost like being part of the same family with several sets of parents. I remember when we would all gather at Grandma Martins for Sunday lunch after church. The mothers would get the food ready, the men would sit around and talk about the weather and all of the cousins would play together. I epically remember one time Barry and I were sitting playing with the bag of cowboys and Indians. We were trying to decide who would play which role. He would always be gracious and let me choose first. So many fond memories of my cousin. May he R.I.P. Our prayers and thoughts are with your family along with our love.
