“ Calvin was a distant cousin to me. His Grandmother, Mae Bradner Rowland and my Daddy, Henry Bradner, were 1st cousins. When I was in high school, Calvin & I rode the school bus together. He was a nice quiet young man. When my Dad would visit Mae & her family, Calvin would pick at Daddy and make him laugh. I'm sure he will be greatly missed.

“ Calvin was a real good friend of mine. He would come by fisher auto parts where I worked. We would always laugh and joke for hours at a time. He would always pick at me about giving me a ticket. I would always say. I am just like a salad patch any time you want come and pick a mess. So the name stuck and a bunch of people call me that now. But every time I've been called that I think of my real good friend Calvin.
