“ I met Greg several years ago when we worked at McFeelys. Such a sweet and caring young man, and I remember his love for music, and all GOD'S critters. I saw him perform at Badlanders and Cattle Annie's. He would always entertain us at work with his radio playing all of YES'S greatest hits. Greg and I stayed in touch up until about a year or so ago, and he dropped off the radar. Now I know why, and it breaks my heart. Until we meet again sweet friend, Rest in Peace. You are truly missed. 🦋🦋💕💕💕

“ I met Greg on Facebook in 2019. I travelled to his place in Danville where he showed me his reptiles. I had brought my guitar and amp with me, so we played together for almost two hours. We stayed in contact all the way up until the time of his operation. That was the last contact I had from him. I had no idea of his condition except for the sketchy information I got from the roommate. I contacted some of his Facebook friends and luckily, I just heard from one the other day. If I would have known he was still alive up until December 24, I would have definitely made the trip to see him. Most people (if any) don't know this but, Greg and I had planned to find a place together. We talked of starting a band and I'm very sure we would have enjoyed some snake hunting together. I loved Greg like a brother, I hope he can find PEACE now.

“ This truly breaks my heart to hear. Greg was such a awesome Musician and singer. He was in a band with me several years back and let me tell you he is the best bass player backing vocals I ever had the pleasure to play and entertain with in my lifetime. He will definitely be missed and I will always remember the big quiet guy with the cool Rikenbacher (Hope that's spelled correctly) Bass and Ampeg amp. Fly High Greg and RIP.
