“Joyce was the strongest person I have ever known. She was my aunt and she was my friend. I loved her so much. I will never forget teaching her to drive a car. Later on, I taught her how to drive one with a manual transmission. We had so many good times together.

“ Joyce you and I became best friends 10 years ago. It was not a Nascar race came on TV that we did not get on the phone and discussed the winner. We was each others to go to when we need help, or a story to tell. I will miss you but you will always be in my heart. Rest easy until we see each other one day.

“ I loved Joyce the moment I first met her. I of course was spending the night with Granny and Papa Hall. She was quietly rocking in a porch rocker in front of the living room window. I walked out and told her my name and asked her name. I sat on the arm of the chair and like anyone who knows me I talked her about everything I thought she needed to know about our family. I have another empty spot on my heart. Until we meet again Joyce.
