“ It's hard at a time like this to not question things and ask why. It just doesn't seem real that you are no longer here with our family. It's hard to look beyond the sorrow at this moment but we will always cherish those memories that we've had with Linda. God called home one of the most precious angels this morning and as selfish as it is to say I just wish that we could have you back here with us for a little while longer. We rejoice in this sad time knowing that you are now healed and no longer suffering, and that you have a glorified body. We love you Linda and will always hold you close to our hearts <3
