“ Sending comfort and prayers to the family during this time. I am truly heartbroken. I saw Lynn just hours before this tragedy and we laughed and talked as we always did when I came into the store. She was very happy that night and shared pictures with me and we high fived and I left thinking I would see her the next day. I will cherish our last moments knowing that she was happy and all smiles that night. I am so sorry for the loss of a wonderful friend. May the Lord wrap His arms around the family and keep them comforted. To lose one family member is devastating but to lose three at one time is incomprehensible..a beautiful young mother and her child looking forward to the holidays and making memories. My heart and prayers go out to you at this time..so very sorry for your loss

“ The loss of a loved one is such a trial for us that are left behind. We grieve because we will miss them, everything about them, but we must remember this is for the living. Lynn, her daughter & sweet grandchild have been called home, together. How precious a Christmas gift it must be to celebrate it with Jesus and the Father. John & I send our prayers to the family. May God bring you comfort in the many days ahead & an understanding that this is only a temporary separation. In heaven you will see them again.
