“ During the few years that I knew Ann I remember her as a very special lady, loving and caring person, grateful for the little things in life. She was a hard working woman, she knew how to take simple things and make them work magic, she knew exactly how to fix things and make them work. I remember her loving to decorate for the holidays, she took great pleasure in doing so. She always spoke well of her family and loved them genuinely. As we all do, she faced many challenges in life but she endured until the end. She will be missed. Our love and prayers to Bonnie, Sharon, Steven and all the family members.
