“ I remember an occasional epic occasions when David would try to get the best of Jimmie. He was riding in the back seat with our kids and Jim broke wind. Well poor David was in the middle and could go no where. The rest of us was rolling down the Windows. He could not. The very next weekend he gave Jim a keychain stating. "No farting zone " and ran out of the house. We laughed till we rolled....He was so special to us and still is. Fear not, we'll see him again.
